CLASS ELECTIONS

MEETINGS HELD FOR CLASS OFFICE NOMINATIONS AT 9:46 TODAY; WHITE BALLOTS FILL 13 POSITIONS

Marked by the lowest number of candidates on record, the nominations will take place in the Little Theater for the Seniors, Science building for the Juniors, the Men's gym for the Sophomores and the Morris Dailey Auditorium for the Freshmen.

The meetings, a mere formality, will find 13 out of 18 class offices filled by one nominee only, while one office didn't even draw a candidate. Only positions to be contested are the Senior Class Presidency, the Junior Class Presidency, the Freshman Class Presidency, the Junior Class Secretary-Treasurer ballot.

Two of the 18 posts to be filled are the Junior Court Judgeships, which will be held by Marshall Kelley and Alice Lee Freeman who held the posts last quarter. Both terms of office are for a whole year.

PERIODS CUT

Periods will be cut this morning to allow time for the nominations which will be held between second and third periods. Student Council members will be in charge of the meetings. ASB President Tom Taylor warned all candidates that even those who are running on a white ballot must be nominated from the floor. Only those who had petitions filed are eligible for nomination. Balloting will take place after the meetings until 5 p.m. in election booths placed in front of the Morris Dailey auditorium.

Class schedule for this morning is as follows:

COUNCIL MEETING

By-Laws To Constitution Regarding Date Book, Student Union And Social Affairs Governing Campus Organization Drafted By Student Council

In the longest meeting held on record, Bill Morrow, senior journalism major from Berkeley, was appointed Spartan Daily Editor for this quarter by the Student Council last night in a session lasting almost five hours.

Most of the time was taken up in drafting a set of by-laws to the constitution in regards to the use of the Date Book. That completed the set of additions to the constitution inaugurated last week with the addition of the Student Union and Social Affairs by-laws governing on-campus organizations.

Another large part of the business was taken up by the Spartan Revelries. After much discussion, the Student Rulers decided that a

ROOTING SECTION PLANNED FOR CASABA GAME

Planning activities even before she has a committee selected to help her carry them out, Rally Committee Chairman Lorraine Titcomb announced that a San Jose State college rooting section will be organized at the basketball game Friday night.

She also announced that the meeting for prospective Rally committee members scheduled for tomorrow noon has been postponed until 12:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. All students who wish to become members of the committee must attend this meeting as the Rally committee by-laws provide that "only students attending the first two meetings can be eligible for membership."

Miss Titcomb also would like all Spartans, who are interested in forming a band to play at the basketball games this quarter, to get in touch with her personally or leave a note in the T mail box in the Spartan Shop by 3 o'clock today.

RESERVES

Reservists To Stay In College Is Official Word

By DEAN PAUL PITMAN
Armed Forces Representative
Enlisted Reserve Corps men — you will certainly finish this quarter and will probably stay on through most or all of the spring quarter.

Army Air Force men—you will certainly be here until June. There is no room for you in training. This includes many of you who are enlisted for immediate service.

OBSERVE REGULATIONS
ERC and Air Force men (including those waiting for immediate service) should observe the following regulations:

1. No change of permanent address from that entered on the enlistment papers. This is a must and immediate requirement.
2. Reservists' cards must be on file in my office.
3. Any change in grades or make-up of incompletes from last quarter must be reported to Mrs. Louise Ralph in my office today. Tomorrow will be too late. Our report to Fort Douglas is being typed now.
4. Unless you are officially excused by the College War council, you must be in PEV.

NO CHANGE
V-1, V-5, V-7, and Marine Reserve men—there has been no word of any change of status. Tend to your knitting. Count on completing this school year anyway.

While most ERC men at the time of their call to active duty will be given 90 days of basic training before being assigned to college, infantry, chemical warfare, or other divisions of the Army, those who know now that they wish to end up in the Air

NYA JOBS OPEN

Many jobs are still available for girls interested in doing NYA work, Helen Dimmick, dean of women, announced.

For good salaries, clerical, library, cleaning, filing, and sewing positions are in the offing.

Exchange Closes

Money and books must be obtained today from the Book Exchange, announced Chairman Marie Hayes.

The exchange will be open from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m., and students must have their stubs. There will be four sections set up according to numbers on the stubs. Students should be certain that they are in the right line, the chairman said. Today is absolutely the last day. Operations will close until final week, and there will be no more books sold until that time.

Cast Announced For Coming Play 'The Little Foxes'

For the dynamic role of a cruel, merciless woman, Regina Gidden, Barbara Trelease was chosen from the tryouts held Monday and Tuesday for parts in the play "The Little Foxes", to be presented in the Little Theater the first week of February.

As Regina's invalid, trusting husband Horace, Jack Hume has been cast, and Bette Gardner will portray the lovely, soft-hearted Alexandra. As the pathetic Berdie, who lives under the restraining hands of the powerful Regina and her brothers, Charlotte Wales has been chosen.

The two scheming brothers, Ben and Oscar Hubbard, will be enacted by Tom Wilde and Milton Brietzke respectively. Edward Ropolo will play the part of Leo, Oscar's recalcitrant son.

To portray the colored servants of the wealthy southern Gidden home, Frank Savstrom was selected as Cal, and Jacquie Jurgensen as Addie.

The entire action of this famous Broadway and screen play takes place in the Gidden home. The play is a subdued one with little physical action, but is electrified with under-currents of taut feelings, despairs, burning hatreds, and frustrated hopes. This unusual drama, written by Lillian Hellman, is considered one of her best.

Ted Hatlen of the Speech department is directing the play, and Wendell Johnson, speech instructor, will design the sets.

BILL MORROW

definite date and script for the annual show be laid on the table until the next meeting. It was also suggested by Councilman Arthur Inman that an additional variety show be held this year in addition to the revelries.

A committee of Student Councilmen, faculty representative and Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie will meet today to decide the fate of such a plan. If oked the variety show under faculty direction will be held this quarter and the Revelries will revert back to the old system of appearing in conjunction with Spardi Gras next quarter.

If not passed, the Revelries will take place next month. All students interested in producing, directing, or serving in any way, especially in writing a script and music, should turn in applications and material to the Student Council by noon Monday.

USO PLANS PARTY THURSDAY NIGHT

The United Service Organization at San Jose State college will celebrate its first birthday with a party at the Student Union Thursday evening.

After the December 7th tragedy last year, soldiers poured into San Jose. In fact, many of them were quartered in the Men's gym here. In order to help entertain those sleeping in the gym, Mrs. Sarah Wilson and the Women's Physical Education department held a dance for those soldiers. It was found that many of the soldiers did not know how to dance, so a class, under the leadership of Mrs. Wilson, was formed to help them. The class grew in size, and gradually it turned into a regular dance, with the class held the first half hour.

Ero Sophians Sponsor Sport Dance For Benefit Of On-Campus War Funds

"An evening of dancing and entertainment certainly is a painless way to make a much-needed donation to a very worthwhile cause," states Marge Behrman, Ero Sophian president.

The Eros, an on-campus social sorority, are sponsoring a sports dance this Saturday night for the benefit of the war funds on-campus. The greater part of the proceeds will be donated to the "Send a Daily to Camp" campaign.

Locale of the dance will be the San Jose Woman's club. Music will be provided through the courtesy of Bill Bristol and his P.A. record system. Dancing will be from 9 to 1 o'clock.

Motif of the affair will be carried out in the "Spartan Daily" theme, with issues of the Daily used as decorations. Jo Ann Sweeney, decoration chairman, will be assisted by the Ero pledges.

Entertainment for the evening will be provided by the Ero Trio, who will sing a "Tune of the Times" number composed especially for the occasion. Members of the trio are Jane Reed, Betty Stuhlman, and Barbara Trelease. They will be accompanied by Danna Lee Trimble on the piano.

Bids for the dance sell for $1.10, and are obtainable from any member or pledge of the society, announces Jeannette Owen, bid chairman.

Honored at the dance will be the Ero pledges, who are: Jo Ann Sweeney, president; Betty Barnard, Betty Bariteau, Georgie Buckingham, Anna May Diffinn, Virginia Dorsey, Phyllis Elmer, Eva Gire, Clara Hasen, Marianne Hayes, Betty James, Jeanne Kay, Marian Nash, Charlotte Lund, Roberta Ramsey, Jane Roberts, Sylvia Ronning, Joan Ross, Louise Saso, Janis Shephard, Alice Sloan, Elizabeth Stice, Nettie Suhlsen, and Danna Lee Trimble.

THIRTEEN WHITE BALLOTS

If the number of petitioned candidates who will "run" for offices in the class elections is any index to the general student attitude towards their own school government, and there is good reason to believe it is, then things don't look too well for this college's government.

At a late hour last night there were three offices for which two people each are contending, 13 offices for which one person each is contending, and one office for which NOBODY is contending.

This skeleton list of candidates should hardly attract a greater number of voters to the polls than the deplorable handful which regularly turns out, even when there is actually some element of competition for class offices.

Lack of "school spirit" has been the subject of countless editorials in these columns in the past, and there has been a minimum of effect. Students here have never been over-enthusiastic about voting for anything, but usually there have been at least enough candidates to make even a small vote indicate the desirability of one person over another for a class office.

This, however, is a new low—a school of 2000 students is well able to produce more than 22 candidates for 18 offices.

The constitution ruling that class officers be elected during the second week of the quarter is, we feel, responsible for a good part of this scarcity of candidates.

It is too early in the quarter for students, who are involved with the intricacies of new classes and class schedules to be seriously concerned with school policies. But the constitution stipulates this two-week ruling, and it is presumed that such a decision was arrived at only after much deliberation by the student body themselves.

The evidence is all against the ruling, however—the long list of "white ballots" testifies to that. Some sort of adjustment is necessary, for Friday's trek to the polls won't be a vote, it will be a mere formality.

GIVE A BOOK

Between 1500 and 2000 former Spartans are in the armed services and a large part of this number is actively engaged in driving the enemy back in North Africa, on Guadalcanal and the Solomons, and in the other Allied fighting fronts of the world.

It is with thought of these men from Washington Square that each of the some 2100 students enrolled at State this quarter are being asked to contribute books during the Victory Book campaign or send to Spartans "in the fight."

The campaign gets under way today and contributions may be placed in boxes set up around the campus, or turned in at the library. This is not a good chance to get rid of torn and battered textbooks, syllabi, etc. The men who will receive the books you give are interested in the same literature and reading matter that you are. Turn in books you've read and liked or buy a Pocket Book for a quarter.

This is one campaign that doesn't involve digging into your pocket for a dollar or two just when you're shortest. The Victory Book campaign lasts until March. Check over the books in your book case. Give a book for the "fighting Spartans."

—Loomis.

TIME WAS

By BOYD HAIGHT

—When San Jose State was blessed with a humor magazine akin to the Stanford "Chappie" and the University of California "Pelican". Known as the "El Toro," it provided jokes, illustrations, cartoons and features that did not lend themselves for publication in the more serious Spartan Daily and La Torre yearbook.

One of the features given a big spread in the March, 1936, issue of the magazine was the feminine invasion of the inner sanctum of the Tau Delta Phi sanctuary in The Tower. A female member of the El Toro staff aided by a photographer became the first woman to set foot in the "upper rooms" of the Tower by forcing an entrance into the Tau Delt stronghold. According to the story as published in the El Toro, the invader encountered no Tau Delt and had free run of The Tower. The El Toro was profusely illustrated with pictures of the "mysterious Miss X" and her expedition in Tau Delt territory.

After struggling through the months of 1936 the staff of El Toro finally gave up the ghost and, in favor of the swing of popular sentiment, suspended publication. As a tribute to its memory it might be fitting to resurrect one of its not-so-typical jokes: "When a guy dons a suit on this campus he's either trying to wear it out or else he's a student teacher."

SJ STATE LOOKS BACK AT 1942

By JERRY REYNOLDS

With predictions rampant at its beginning that 1943 will be a bigger and better year than its predecessor, we take this opportunity to look back on 1942 as it was here at San Jose State.

In the drama department there were two serious plays presented—"Winterset" and "Pride and Prejudice"; one comedy, "The Male Animal", and several smaller plays, including "Ah Wilderness", "The Rivals", and "East Lynne".

SENIOR SNUCK

Last year's seniors "snucc" to their objective in the Santa Cruz mountains with juniors interspersed among the first arrivals. Result is that the identity of the victorious "Sneak Day" class is still a matter of controversy.

Spardi Gras day dawned bright and sunny for the first time in a number of years, and costumed Spartans and Spartanettes jammed the quad for crowning of Queen Helen Donovan and King Herb Petty by "Bishop" William Poytress. Concessions and contests had their share of participants, while a long line formed in the East Quad for the bean feed and the dance.

POPULAR MUSICAL

"Good News of 1942", popular musical comedy presented on Broadway, was given at Sparta's annual Revelries, with student talent in the form of singing, dancing and monologues as specialty acts.

Football season brought us two defeats out of nine games played; in basketball we took third place in the California College Athletic Association conference.

The 1942 edition of the track team gained the reputation of being the greatest track and field

James Theodore Sarris, who received his bachelor of arts degree in commerce last spring at San Jose State, has just completed Officer Candidate class at Quantico, Va., and is now a second lieutenant in the U. S. Marine Corps, it was learned here yesterday. Sarris was given a ten weeks' course in military fundamentals before receiving his commission. He now will spend three months in Reserve Officers' training school as a platoon commander, after which he will be assigned to a combat unit, or sent to a specialists' school.

squad ever assembled at Sparta. Undeclared in a full season, San Jose won the CCAA title in San Diego.

Biggest student gathering was at the assembly when Lt. Beth Veley of the Army Nurses Corps held her audience spellbound with tales of conditions on Bataan, Corregidor and other Jap-attacked areas where she had served.

Over $2000 in war stamps were bought by students in one week, following the giant assembly held on December 7 in commemoration of the Jap attack on Pearl Harbor in 1941.

Altogether, 1942 at San Jose State saw a combination of patriotic rallies and social activities; of new ideas and old customs; and of new and old faces in all the familiar places on Washington Square.

Black Masque: The meeting originally scheduled for Friday has been postponed. Members will be sent notice of the new meeting time.

SPORTS SCRAPS

By
"SCRAPPY" SQUATRITO

Continuing from where we left off yesterday, we'll take up the rest of the by-laws added to the Constitution by the Student Council. These rules, presented today, affect the issuing of awards to the managers.

Managerial honors shall be conferred upon those students who demonstrate superior skill and sportsmanship in the promotion and management of inter-collegiate athletics.

Any student is eligible for Sophomore manager, who is acceptable to the Managers association. Sophomore managers shall be recognized by blue sweatshirts, upon which "Soph Manager" will be written across the back in two-inch block letters.

JUNIOR MANAGERS' HONORS

Those eligible for Junior managers are candidates who have served one year as Sophomore manager, and who are elected by the Recommendations Committee, and the outgoing and incoming Senior managers. Junior managers will be recognized by a light-weight coat sweater. A small monogram honor with Junior manager's insignia will adorn the sweater.

SENIOR MANAGERS' HONORS

The Senior managers are elected from the Junior managers of the respective sports. They are elected by the coaches of the sport, the outgoing Senior managers and the captain and captain-elect, in conjunction with a vote by team members.

Senior manager honors will be identical with those given the Varsity honors with the exception that the block letter shall have a white "manager" in the bottom bar of the S.

Requirements for this are that he must be a manager for three years. Or in case of sports where only two types of managers are needed (Senior and Junior), a man must have served a year as a soph manager in some other sport before he is eligible for an award.

LIFETIME PASSES

Managers eligible for lifetime as designated in the Varsity Honors System are those who have served as Senior manager in at least two sports.

Number of managers needed for each sport are:

	Srs.	Jrs.	Soph.
Football	2	4	16
Basketball	2	4	5
Baseball	2	4	0
Track	1	1	1
Boxing	1	1	1
Tennis	1	1	0
Soccer	1	1	0
Swimming	1	1	0
Water Polo	1	1	0

Thus we have the honors bestowed on Sparta's athletic stars and its sports managers. Tomorrow's column will take up the final set of by-laws which pertain to the awarding of the awards by the coaches.

Inter-Fraternity: All members are asked to place lists of active members for last quarter in Co-op box 1. Deadline, Friday.

Lost: A rose-gold Solachron watch. Lost near the college between Second and Ninth streets on Tuesday night. If found, please return to June Gannon, care of YWCA.

Spartan Basketball Quintet Set To Meet Fire With Fire In Game Friday--- Concentrating On Offense For Contest

By SEBASTIAN SQUATRITO

Apparently set on meeting fire with fire, basketball coach Ed Blesh sent his cagers through another long scrimmage session last night. If Stanford and California, two tall outfits, couldn't stop the St. Mary's Pre-Flighters from controlling the ball, then the Spartans with a short team will have less chance in turning the trick, said Blesh.

Basketball Mentor

COACH BLESH

With a speedy team to work with, the Washington Square mentor has decided to abandon all hopes in trying to stem the Air Devils' offense. Instead he'll concentrate on a fast break for his team in an effort to outrun and outscore the Angelo Luisetti led quintet.

Right now it looks like the five men who will take the floor for the Spartans at the start of the game Friday night will be Cas Breuer and Willie Gamboa forwards, Elwood Clark center, and Bert Robinson and Roy Diederichsen guards.

However, a few of the reserves are pressing these men, and by game time Porter McConnell, Marvin Zemanek and Bob Taylor may be inserted in one of the starting roles.

Weakest spot on the team at the present time is at the guard position, where Robinson and Diederichsen are pretty well secure. William Smith, Nick Cominos, and Wayne Staley have yet to gain a little experience before they'll be able to travel in fast company like the Pre-Flighters.

Both teams have each played four games this season with the Pre-Flighters winning theirs by scores of 54-34 and 54-39 over Stanford, and 45-39 and 53-35 over the University of California.

San Jose dropped its first game to the Alameda Coast Guard 38 to 28, but came back with a rush in its next three games in turning back Fort Ord 60 to 28, University of San Francisco 43 to 35, and 2nd Armored Corps 55 to 18.

Coach Blesh announced yesterday that the general admission price for the doubleheader Friday would be 75 cents for outsiders, and 25 cents for State students with student body cards. This will apply only to the Civic auditorium games.

Bill Perry Replaces Angelo Colombo As Frosh Coach

With the return of Angelo Colombo to the varsity squad, Bill Perry, ace Spartan griddier, will step into Colombo's place and take over the chore of handling the freshman basketball quintet for the remainder of the current season.

Perry, who has had considerable basketball experience, was a member of last year's frosh cage team. He is working his lads hard this week in preparation for their next game to be played Saturday night here against Santa Clara high school.

HUNTING OPPONENT

Colombo and Perry are now hunting an opponent for the Spartans for Friday night to make the doubleheader at the auditorium a triple-header. They have contacted the Wardrobe, but have not received a definite answer as yet.

A previously scheduled contest with San Francisco J. C. for Saturday night has been canceled because of traveling difficulties. It is doubtful whether the frosh will be able to take any more trips because of the gasoline rationing.

NEW ADDITIONS

A number of new boys have come out for the team this quarter which will compensate for the loss of Jack Russell, Bill Kamp, and Joe Marchisella to the draft. Included in the new group are Danny Conforti and Floyd Collier, two Spartan footballers.

LANYON TO LEAD SPARTAN NINE

Milton Red Lanyon, erstwhile exponent of the brush in the San Jose State Art department, will put away his easel and don the spikes some time in the next few weeks when he takes over his new duties as Spartan baseball coach.

A rabid diamond addict, Lanyon is well known in spring quarter softball circles for his stellar performances on the San Carlos turf in behalf of the artists.

Lanyon has not yet had a look at his 1943 material, but unless the reserves are called up before June of this year, he should have a fair turnout. Some of last year's diamond aces are returning, and Lanyon may be able to build a fair nine with these second year men as the backbone of the outfit.

Pete Khaki Filice, former Spartan hurler, may aid Lanyon in lining up the squad until the new mentor gets the reins well in hand. Filice, who did a stretch with the San Jose Owls in the now defunct California State

OUT OF THE HUDDLE

By CHARLES COOK

Ex-Spartan athletes scattered far and wide now have succeeded in bringing another measure of fame to Washington Square. In the football season just passed several men distinguished themselves with the various service teams.

Billy Rhyne and Allen Hardisty, both 1941 grid greats here, went great guns for the St. Mary's Pre-Flight eleven until they were transferred in mid-season.

Camp Lee, Virginia, drew Ken "Buck" Bailey, he of the gargantuan legs, and Buck promptly took over a first-string berth on the football squad. Bailey, who was one of those who made the trip to Honolulu last year, had to fight off competition from several former college all-stars in his bid for a starting role.

Vernon Cartwright, for three seasons a familiar figure to Spartan football fans, left almost a month ago and is now stationed at St. Petersburg in Officer's Training School. Vern, an educated mass of muscle, reports that their conditioning program is on a par with that of the San Jose football training.

Latest one to heed the call is that little-big man of Sparta, Stu Carter. Graduating this Christmas, Stu was called by the Navy and is now back in Chicago wrestling with a lot of snow and higher mathematics.

Carter, one of the few three-strippers on the campus, was also one of the most popular and best liked of Spartan athletes. His antics on the football field, basketball court and baseball diamond won him a lot of admirers, and the sight of his fuzzy noggin on the field of play always drew a big hand from the crowd. He was also a graduate of the Garden City Club.

League, will be a big help to Lanyon.

As has been the case with so many teams already this year, Lanyon anticipates some difficulty in getting games for his squad. However, he hopes to schedule some of the service teams in the locality to replace small college outfits who have been forced to cancel their traveling schedules due to the transportation difficulty.

Fall quarter Red Cross captains are requested to meet Thursday, January 7, at 4 o'clock in room 32.—Mildred Winters.

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE STUDENT UNION

The purpose of the Student Union is to give the students a place for relaxation and amusement. There are magazines and various games for entertainment.

At one time the Student Union was used for other purposes. The students began to use the union as a place to gamble. At this time the AWA volunteered to act as hostesses. Their job would be to see that the Union was kept neat, the magazines were not to be damaged, and to see that the Student Union was to be run in a neat, organized manner.

It was felt that a set of rules and regulations should be made up so that the Student Hostesses and the Student Court could act on them in case of any misconduct or misuse of the Student Union.

With the aid of the two Deans, these rules and regulations have been drawn up.

The rules and regulations will be acted upon by the AWA who will furnish the hostesses. These hostesses are to take care of the Union during college hours (8 to 5).

The rules to be followed are:

1. No smoking in the Union.
2. No card-playing of any kind.
3. No gambling.
4. No misuse of furniture (sitting on arms, leaning, etc.).
5. No eating of lunches or any food except regularly served refreshments at social functions.

(a) It has been suggested that the Student Center and Newman Club are open for such purposes.

The rules for the use of the Student Union after college hours (8 to 5) are:

1. Secure use of Union through Controller's office.
2. Must abide by the rules of the Student Council, pertaining to chaperones, signing of date book, etc.
3. The use of the Student Union after college hours should follow the same rules and regulations that pertain to students during college hours (8 to 5).

SCA TO SPONSOR 'OPINIONS PLEASE' DISCUSSION GROUP

"In some ways, students of other colleges who live in dormitories have an advantage over those of us here at San Jose State."

This is the opinion brought back from the Asilomar conference by Spartan delegates, who go on to say, "There is plenty of collegiate spirit on our campus, but often we note the need for a place where any of us can come and give off with a few songs, or hold discussions and bull sessions with other students... a place to which we could invite known leaders from all walks of life to discuss things with us, but where we could have dancing and social activity as well."

In order to partially fill this need, these students are inaugurating a series of evening sessions called "Opinions, Please." Sponsored by the Student Christian Association, these meetings are open to all students.

"Theme of the series will be strictly informal," states Rex Gardiner. "The first half hour or so will be devoted to group singing. Following this there will be a presentation of a speaker, or a panel discussion, with student interest determining the subject, and the speaker presented."

Faculty Discusses Budget Today

Milton Rendahl, president of the San Jose State College Instructors association, announced today that the group would hold its first meeting of the quarter in room 24 at 4 o'clock today.

A discussion of the effect of budget reductions on the faculty will be held under the leadership of Dr. William Poytress and President T. W. MacQuarrie.

Since faculty members are so vitally concerned in such an issue, Rendahl today extended an invitation to all instructors to attend the meeting and join in the discussion. "It is not necessary that the instructor be a member of the association to attend—we are extending an invitation to every one," he exclaimed.

Rendahl was elected to the president's chair last spring quarter and has presided over the group since that time.

Dancing will occupy the last part of the evening.

First of the series will be held Friday night in the Student Union, from 7:30 to 10:30; no admission price. Later meetings will be held on some set day of the week.

Friday night's speaker will be Homer Lo, who is studying at the University of Pennsylvania.

Inter-Fraternity Discusses Dance For Near Future

At a meeting held Monday evening, Inter-Fraternity Council members decided that an Inter-Fraternity dance will be held within the next four weeks. The dance is to be a semi-formal, and will be held at the Scottish Rite Temple.

A definite date is to be announced later as some difficulty has been encountered in finding a band. According to President Orlyn Gire, the majority of bids will be held for fraternity men, but a limited number will be placed on sale for the general student body.

Earlier last quarter, members of the six on-campus social groups decided that individual fraternities would not hold dances but would "pool" their resources for Inter-Fraternity dances. As a result, there will be two dances sponsored by Inter-Fraternity before the end of the school year.

President Gire announced the chairmen of committees as follows: Joe Talbot, publicity; Larry Moore, advertising; Ronald Hadley, bids; Doren Nielson, decorations; and Orlyn Gire, place and band.
